

Comment on Local Transportation Priorities in Your Area

The N.C. Department of Transportation wants North Carolinians to share their transportation priorities as part of its efforts to implement the state's new Strategic Transportation Investments law.

STI overhauls the way North Carolina funds transportation improvements, allowing NCDOT to make more efficient use of its existing revenues to fund more investments that improve the state's transportation infrastructure, create jobs and help boost the economy.

In the coming weeks, each of the 14 NCDOT Transportation Divisions will submit its top transportation priorities to compete with other transportation improvements across the state for funding under the new formula. To help determine these priorities, each division is asking local residents to provide their thoughts on which transportation improvements are most important.

Residents can take part in the process by making their suggestions during a 30-day public comment period from Tuesday, Jan. 14, through Wednesday, Feb. 12.
