

NCTA Releases the Request for Expressions of Interest for Product Demonstration

February 21, 2012

The North Carolina Turnpike Authority (NCTA) released a Request for Expressions of Interest for Product Demonstration (RFEIPD) February 21, 2012. The RFEIPD is expected to allow vendors to showcase advances in technology for the collection of tolls through RFID, GPS, video, etc.

The demonstrations will be held in Sanford, North Carolina (see RFEIPD for details) on April 2-April 5, 2012 and April 23-April 26, 2012. If NCTA determines additional demonstration dates are required after receiving responses, an updated schedule will be provided. ATI/NCTA will release a more defined schedule detailing what technologies will be demonstrated and by which vendor following receipt of responses. This information will be provide to the ATI membership so interested agencies can attend demonstrations of interest.

If you have any questions, please email Korey Barrette, NCTA Director of Technology (korey.barrette@ncdot.gov) or myself at jr.fenske@tollinterop.org.

Please feel free to distribute this RFEIPD to any vendors which may be interested in providing a response to the RFEIPD.

Thank you, JR
